Virginia Team Has Bad News From Its Former Star

FIRST GAME DISAPPOINTING

Poor Team Work Manifested in Big Crowd Attends Race Meet-Contest With William and Mary College

Special to The Times-Dispatch. CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., October .- Sam W. Honaker, of Plano, Texas, Virginia's crack quarter back for the Foxhunter's steeplechase, a feature of past three seasons, and captain of this year's eleven, has retired from the with his brother-in-law in Texas. dent body had been hoping and believing that he would return to college and assume charge of the team. On yesterday, however, a letter was received from him stating that it would be impossible for him to return to Virginia this fall. The news comes as a hard blow to the football squad, and the coaches have a big job on hand to find a quarter who can fill the Texan's shoes. To secure a man the equal of "Horny" will be a hard task indeed. The little Texan had a remarkable record on the gridiron. Despite his weight—130 pounds—he went through three seasons with hardly an injury. He made his debut against the Carilsie indians in Norfolk three years ago, the game being the last on Virginia's schedule of that season. In the first half he picked his way through the whole Redekin team, going eighty yards for a touchdown. Later in the contest he made sensational runs, and at once established himself as an open field runner of the first rank. His generalship was practically faultless, and his wide, sweeping runs were features of Virginia's play in nearly every contest. In the championship games with Georgetown and North Carolina he always performed brilliantly.

Appraising New Blood.

With all doubt practically settled as to how many of last year's varsity will play this year, the interest of the followers of the game has turned to the question as to which of the new men will fill in the gaps left vacant by Goth, Calfee, Honaker and Neff.

The return of "Cowboy" Yancey to the game has put lots of life into the team, and every man seems to work better than before. He was seen in the two games this week, and although out of condition, flashes of his old-time form were exhibited in both contests. Speed Elliott, last year's star end, also d Elliott, last year's star end, also layed in both games. The presence these two men seemed to inspire the sam to more work than in the first ame with William and Mary.

The announcement that Pierce had reported for practice is hailed with much delight by close followers of the practice. He is a big, husky line man, weighing about 195 pounds, and has played guard and tackie on Phillips-Andover for the past two sensons. Poer Showing Made.

In the first real test of the season yesterday Virginia made a poor showing, and the wonder is that the visitors will not make the first touchdown. The visitors started off with a rush, and for a few minutes it looked as though the Orenge and Blue was a whipped team. The varsity took a brase, however, cut out looking, and prevented their goal from being crossed. Davidson's team was very fast, and every man on it seemed to know the game. Virginia, on the other hand, showed bad form, the men did not break up the interference as they should. Practically the entire team was tackling badly, not holding their man after they had strown him. The line did not hold as, it should, and several gains of ten, fitteen and as much as twenty yards were made through the line. All in all, the varsity put up a raxged game although at times there were flashes of good football.

NEW YORK, October 3.—An angry wife, flanked by two detectives, marched into the Hotel du Nord late yesterday afternoon and forced her way into a room.

"This," she went on, "Is Mrs. George

"This," she went on, "is Mrs. George W. McKean."

Then Mrs. Barrett flounced from the room and out to a taxleab,

Mrs. McKean was formerly Miss Elizabeth Flagler, daughter of Gen-

Elizabeth Flagler, daughter of General Daniel W. Flagler, formerly chief of ordnance of the Unied States Army, who died some years ago, leaving a large estate.

As Miss Flagler she acquired national prominence through an incident that occurred in 1895 at Washington. A negro boy was caught by Miss Flagler plundering the orchard surrounding the Flagler residence. She warned the lad away, and when he failed to heed her she fired a revolver, killing him instantly. She was found guilty of "involuntary manslaughter" and sentenced to three hours in jail and a fine of $500.

JOHANNISTHAL, GERMANY, October 3.—Aviation week was brought to an end to-day before a very large crowd which, was compensated by a sensational flight after sunset by Hubert Latham. After three failures, he made an easy start two minutes after sunset, and, aithough he reached a height officially estimated at 530 feet, twenty feet higher than Rougler's record of yesterday, he was disqualified by the lateness of the hour.

Latham rose into a great height, and flew repeatedly around the field. He hovered above the tribunes with absor-

Latham estimated that he ascended between 600 and 1,000 feet, but the officials signalled 580. Following are the results of the competitions as announced by the officials:

A great deal of interest is manifested in this locality in the exhibit of the Infant Incubators at the coming Fair Infant Incubators at the coming Fale by the Pennsylvania Infant Incubator Company, of Pittsburg, Dr. H. K. Snyder, of that city, in charge. This company, at enormous expense, are bringing to Richmond one of their complete hospital outlits, carrying their own building with them. So much care is necessary in the crection of the building that it is really astonishing. All the materials used on the inside of the building, such as paint and the like have to be sterilized completely by the most improved methods. Caremust be taken that no crevices are missed in the side walls, and preparations of an almost complete electric plant. The building will be an exact duplicate of the large incubator hospitals that are now being built by this company in many of the larger cities of the country. In the last few years the building of hospitals of this sort, both large and small, has been going on in scores of places, for the Infant Incubator has been measured there is the lives of prematurely born youngsters are at stake.

building of hospitals of this sort, both large and small, has been going on in scores of places, for the Infant Incubator has become a necessity where the lives of prematurely born youngsters are at stake.

In addition to Dr. Snyder, there will be here with the exhibit a complets staff of nurses, in charge of Miss Kreiga graduate nurse of the Pennsylvania Hospital, and a number of physicians, all of whom have had large experience in handling premature infants, having taken a special course under Dr. Snyder in the hospital conducted by the Pennsylvania Infant Incubator Company, and all of whom have had considerable experience with the incubators, and can explain them fully to visitors.

Training along this line has become one of the important parts of the curriculum in many of the medical colleges, as well as in nurses' training schools, and the staff which will be in Richmond will be competent in every particular. It is necessary to keep medical men and nurses around the bables all the time, in the event of some accident or sudden lilness. They receive the same treatment as a grown-up would in a hospital.

Electricity plays the most important part in the operation of the plant, and in the exhibit here some of the suses of which electricity is put may astonish many who even keep abreast of the times as regards discoveries along the line of the uses of the sublimited. The indications are that its value will be greatly enhanced in the neur future if improvements are made with the same degree of rapidity as they have been of late.

The greatest authorities on the subject are almost unanimous in declaring that not more than 15 per cent, of prematurely born infants survive. Under the incubating system, it has been conclusively shown that practically 39 per cent, of those taken into the Infant incubators can be saved. With such a record as this already made, there is every prospect that the system will reduce the mortality to nothing before long.
